MEDICINAL.

After Marriage

They are going to be together just as much as before; going to ride the wheel, take little pleasure jaunts, etc., enjoying everything together. Isn't that what many a young couple promise each other? And yet, how very soon the wife begins to say wife begins to say I care to go. You go alone, dear."

Young women don't reckon on the great reckon on the great physical changes which follow marriage. How can they when they are allowed to grow up in entire ignorance of vital physiological facts? They feel languid, weak and nervous. Sometimes there is headache and backache. The pulse no more leaps pulse no more leaps in answer to the in answer to the thought of a spin on the wheel. Women who have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, know how promptly the languor, headache, backache, nervousness and weakness are cured by this medicine. Many husbands write in gratitude to Dr. Pierce for the medicine which gives them back the wife's companionship, as it gives her back her health.

"All praise is due to you for your wonderful the order of which Mr. Deservition "t writes Mr. Dolh W.

"All praise is due to you for your wonderful 'Favorite Prescription," writes Mr. John W. Coffman, of Ellisburg, Casey Co., Ky. "My wife unferted with female irregularity; was confined to bed every three weeks. After using two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription she was cured, and has not suffered any derangement since. Your 'Favorite Prescription' is a boon to delicate women."

There is no alcohol in "Pavorite Pre-scription," and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics.

GENERAL WADE HAMPTON'S

In an article on the miserable miscarrisge of the attempt to bribe General Wade Hampion with the Columbia (8. C.) posmastership an esteemed adminis irstion organ says that the veteran soldier "plainly prefers the manners and methods of Senator Tillman to those of Senator McLaurin, or bigotry to progrese." This is somewhat a matter of taste and of political morality. Almost everybody will prefer the rugged manli-ness of Senator Tillman to the sneaking manners of Senator McLaurin, who, af-ter having betrayed his party in South manners of Senator McLaurin, who, after having betrayed his porty in South Carolina to the subsidy mongers and high tariff spoilers, undertook to corrupt a distinguished fellow-citizen with a postmastership. The republicans have from time to time made the most of the brutal frankness of Tillman, and they are welcome to all they can make out of the treachery of McLaurin. His lat eet attempt to use the administration spoils for political corruption has resulted in a failure over which his employers should blush for shame.

Was it had manners in Gen. Hampton, who has an horored name in South Carolina, to utter in plain English his righteous indignation over an attempt to put him to bise political uses with the bribe of an office? Or should he have humbly accepted the office with thanks to the giver, and have proceeded to gratefully perform the task expected of him in spite of his political opinions: Our contemporary makes the transaction infinitely worse when it says? "As General Hampton is old and intrain thened circumstances, it was probably thought such an offer would be acceptable." Just so, It was thought that, likes Shakespeare'a poor apothecary, his poverty if not his will would consent, and that he would jump at the off r. But McLaurin and his principals have found that the veteran is not so much or ushed by poverty as to accept a bave found that the veteran is not so much crushed by poverty as to accept a bribe for abandoning his principles or to fall in resenting an insult to his

In the opinion of our contemporary "General Hampton might have helped to pave the way for a more liberal political era in the South." But not by accepting a postmes ership as a reward for politics des rtim and making himself the tool of a McLaurin. The administration's policy cannot be made acceptable to the South by a system of spoilsmongering any more than in the rest of the country. In practicing this system its agents will discover that the southern democrats as a rule are as little su-ceptible to its influence as is General Wade Hampton.--Philadelphia Record.

> BOILED IN A BEER VAT.-Samuel Bolton, jr., head of the firm of S. Bolton's Sors, of Troy N. Y., one of the most extensive brewing concerns in northern New York, met sudden death shortly before noon yesterday by fall-ing into a kettle of boiling beer. Mr. Bolton at the time of the acci> dent was inspecting a portion of the brewery in which was a large kettle of boiling beer. He discovered a portion of the kettle that required attention and sent an employe named Wagner in search of the carpenter. During the search of the carpenter. During the absence of Wagner it is believed that Mr. Bolton slipped while looking into the vessel and fell headlong into its boiling conten s. Upon Wagner's return the body of Mr. Bolton was discovered in the vessel.

NASAL CATABEH quickly yields to treatment by Ely's Cream Balm, which is agreeably aromatic. It is received through the nostrils, cleanses and heals the whole surface over which it diffuses itself. A remedy for Nasal Catarrh which is drying or exciting to the diseased membrane should not be used. Cream Balm is recognized as a specific. Price 50 cents at druggists or by mail. A cold in the head immediatily disappears when Cream Balm is used. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.
